

Join us for 2 evenings of Professional Development

These evenings will be an opportunity to use what we have learned about Skills Based Health and how we can put it into practice.

September 12 and 19

6:00 - 8:00 on zoom

September 12: Foundations of Skills-Based Health Education

This webinar focuses on the foundations of skills-based health education, including effective practices in health education, the National Health Education Standards, and data-informed curricular planning. Over the 2 hours, attendees will have the opportunity to engage in a variety of activities, breakout room discussions and begin planning a skills-based health education unit, lesson and/or assessment.

September 19: Skills-Based Assessment in Health Education

This webinar is focused on the development of a skill-based assessment for health education. Topics include assessing student knowledge & skill growth, tools to assess (rubrics & performance checklists), exemplars, and a performance assessment toolkit. Attendees will begin to develop an end of unit assessment.
